Cozen O'Connor Public Strategies – Live at the Presidential Conventions

Cozen O'Connor Public Strategies professionals played a significant and active role at both the Republican and Democratic National Conventions, attending the conventions, appearing on local and national media, hosting events, and providing commentary on the activity that unfolded in Philadelphia and Cleveland.

To see our coverage and impressions from the RNC, view our "Political Punchout" appearances with NBC10, OZY Facebook LIVE, Haus Rules and The Jim Bohannon Show.

At the DNC, in addition to holding several high-profile events, including our lunch series (pictured below), at our One Liberty Place office, our professionals attended many of the exclusive convention and host committee events, and offered their seasoned insight to various media networks. This included appearances and mentions on Fox Business News, OZY on Facebook LIVE, Newsmax Prime, various top radio shows around the country as well as in USA Today and CNN.com. Mark and Republican strategist Jim Schultz also participating in nightly special called "Political Punchout" with NBC10 Philadelphia, live from the Wells Fargo Center, recapping the day's events and adding their analysis and commentary in politically charged discussions. Blake also served as an elected delegate for Pennsylvania's 1st Congressional District.

We were proud to be joined by the following prominent journalists, political analysts and advisers for our three-part DNC Lunch Series:

Chris Matthews from MSNBC's "Hardball with Chris Matthews"

Jonathan Martin, best-selling author and national political correspondent for The New York Times and Sasha Issenberg, author and contributor for Slate, The New York Times and the Boston Globe

Thomas F. "Mack" McLarty, III, former White House chief of staff, counselor to the president, and special envoy for the Americas under President Bill Clinton
