

Photo of

Practice Areas

- Litigation

Education

I

Ally Hack, a member of the firm's Commercial Litigation Department and member of the board of trustees of the Association for Muslim American Lawyers, will be moderating a panel discussion regarding how communities seeking relief from the courts under RLUIPA raise critical questions on the meaning of religious freedom today, the protection of minority religions, and the role of courts in that dialogue.

To register for the event, click here.