Jeffrey focuses his practice on real estate and has extensive experience in commercial and corporate finance, tax-exempt and taxable bonds, and general corporate representation. His work in real estate development includes handling acquisitions, divestitures, land use and zoning, leasing, financing, and obtaining economic incentives for commercial, retail, office, and industrial development.

Jeffrey is also a nationally recognized Red Book Bond Counsel and a member of the National Association of Bond Lawyers. He has represented state and local governments, school districts, and agencies as issuers of revenue bonds and general obligation bonds for financing the development, construction, and operation of capital projects ranging from manufacturing facilities, water and sewer projects, public housing, health care facilities, and college and universities. He also acts as underwriter's and special tax counsel for major investment banks in the underwriting of tax-exempt and taxable bonds.

Jeffrey is a certified public accountant and has experience in dealing with the financial and tax accounting aspects of transactions.
