Jenny Goltz, a member of Cozen O'Connor's Labor & Employment department, will be giving an opening statement and sitting on a panel discussion at ISBA's Trial Practice Series.

Topics Include:

- How fine-tuning your voir dire skills can help you make an impression on jurors during your next trial
- Why you should strike or keep a juror during the voir dire process
- Why the opening statement is one of the most important steps throughout a trial
- How to present your evidence during your direct examination – even when the subject matter is sensitive in nature
- How to handle objections during cross-examination
- What the judge is thinking and why they rule accordingly during arguments on objections
- How to use the cross-examination process to your advantage during a trial
- How to make an impression on the jury during your closing argument
- Why performance, showmanship, and the art of persuasion is so important during a trial
