Barry Boss, co-chair of Cozen O'Connor's White Collar Defense & Investigations Practice Group, will be moderating a panel titled "Panel on Parallel Proceedings." The NACDL White Collar Criminal Defense College at Stetson is a "boot-camp" program for practitioners wishing to gain key advocacy skills and learn substantive white collar law. The program will cover client retention, investigation in a white collar case, handling searches and grand jury subpoenas, and dealing with parallel proceedings.
