Ryan Blaney, a member of Cozen O'Connor's Health Care practice group, will discuss applications of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Universal Health Services v. United States ex. Rel. Escobar and what to expect from False Claims Act actions in a Clear Law Institute webinar. Ryan and his co-presenter, Michael McCarthy from Cooper Health System, will cover how the court reached its decision and the new standard for implied certification. The webinar will also discuss how lower courts may apply the standard and if the emphasis on "materiality" changes how lawyers should think about False Claims Act cases.
