Who Should Attend:

All levels of claims professionals who conduct or oversee loss investigations and adjustment activities on behalf of first-party property insurance carriers and who are interested in learning more about builders risk claims.

What You Will Learn:

This is the first of a two part webinar series addressing issues arising out of first-party builders risk claims and litigation. In this first session, you will learn:

- The similarities and differences between builders risk and other property policies
- Types of builders risk insurance policies
- Who is covered under the policy; the status of owners, contractors, subcontractors and lenders
- The scope of coverage afforded by builders risk policies and the typical exclusions in those policies
- The measure of loss under builders risk policies.
- Our second webinar on this subject, which will be held later this year, will address more complex issues that can arise under builders risk claims for “soft costs” and business interruption losses resulting from delays in completion.
