Robert Phelan and Ashley Bauerle will host a Cozen O'Connor webinar on November 15 titled, "Cranes and Artwork 101." This webinar investigates two specific subsets of marine insurance claims, specifically those marine claims involving construction cranes and damage to fine art. The presentation will examine both recent case studies as well as nationwide and regional statutory law in order to demonstrate common factual patterns that insurance professionals may encounter during investigation of these specialized claims, as well as the legal framework for pursuing these claims in subrogation.
