

Mark Alderman Returns to After the Bell to Discuss the New York Primary Results

Wednesday, April 20, 2016

Mark Alderman, chairman of Cozen O'Connor Public Strategies, discusses the New York democratic primary results on After the Bell. Mark says that, "Bernie has every right to take his campaign to the convention, but I think he has to think about his end game. I think he needs to run respectfully. I think he needs to talk about policy and not personality and end this on a note he can be proud of." Mark also discusses the topic of Wall Street on the campaign trail saying, "Wall Street has a problem. In New York, of all states, Wall Street among a majority of Republicans and Democrats was seen as hurting the economy more than helping. Bobby Kennedy said in politics you have to hang a lantern on your problem. I think that Wall Street should think about hanging a lantern on this problem and engage with both parties on main street to discuss the issues."
