

Jennifer Brandt Appears on Shepard Smith Reporting to Discuss France's New Divorce Law Proposal

Friday, January 3, 2014

Jennifer Brandt, a member of the firm's Family Law Department, was a guest on Shepard Smith Reporting today on Fox News to discuss France's new proposal to allow consenting couples to divorce without ever seeing a judge. Under the proposal, a court clerk could approve divorces when both spouses agree. Proponents of the plan argue that divorcing couples in agreement, on average, only spend eight minutes before a judge; opponents argue it will further weaken the institution of marriage.

To view the segment, please click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Family Law