

GOP Health Care Plan Heads to the Senate After Narrow Passing Vote in House

Saturday, May 6, 2017

Blake Rutherford, a member of Cozen O'Connor Public Strategies, discusses the GOP health care plan heading to the Senate on Fox News. "I think we can expect that the Senate will take a paper shredder to the House bill," says Blake, "Mitch McConnell to date has not expressed any interest in working with the democrats, so if reconciliation is the way they're going to go they know they're not getting any democratic support."
