

Mark Alderman Analyzes Voter Impressions on Newsmax Prime

Wednesday, March 23, 2016

Mark Alderman, chairman of Cozen O'Connor Public Strategies, discusses the way voters are reacting to the various presidential primary campaigns on Newsmax Prime. When asked about the nature of this primary election, Mark says, " I think Democrats are embarrassed by the Republican side. This is a world in which yesterday, ISIS slaughtered innocent souls in Brussels and we have Donald Trump and Ted Cruz talking about each other's wives. We should be talking about Donald Trump talking to himself about foreign policy and about what is serious in a very serious and dangerous world." Regarding Hillary Clinton's emails, Mark said, "Hillary Clinton is not going to be indicted over those emails. I've talked to people who know the evidence, who know the case, who know the law, who know the process. They tell me there is no there, there. But sure, you'd be a fool not to worry about what would happen were she to be indicted. That would be a big problem. It's not happening."
