

Marilyn Neiman Quoted in Intellectual Property Watch Regarding Anti-Patent Troll Law

Thursday, February 19, 2015

Marilyn Neiman, a member in the firm's Intellectual Property practice group, is quoted in Intellectual Property Watch in an article discussing the Innovation Act, and how this bill aimed at patent trolls would cause many changes to US patent law. Marilyn also discusses the effects this would have on patent litigation.

To read the article (a subscription is required), click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Intellectual Property
- Intellectual Property Litigation
- Patents